

Glooko Boilerplate Language

Updated March 2026

About Glooko

Glooko is a global digital health company focused on helping clinicians address the growing challenges of glycemic safety and diabetes management across the care continuum. Glooko is uniquely positioned to be the enterprise partner of choice for healthcare providers seeking to reduce glycemic risk, improve safety, and support overburdened clinical teams with coordinated expertise across both outpatient and inpatient care settings.

About Glooko and Glooko XT (France Only)

Glooko is a global digital health company focused on helping clinicians address the growing challenges of glycemic safety and diabetes management across the care continuum. Glooko is uniquely positioned to be the enterprise partner of choice for healthcare providers seeking to reduce glycemic risk, improve safety, and support overburdened clinical teams with coordinated expertise across both outpatient and inpatient care settings.

Glooko XT, Glooko's remote patient monitoring solution in France, is tailored for the French healthcare landscape, complies with French regulations on health data management, and prioritizes patient privacy and data security.